HIGH FIVE[®] SPORT

TRAINING IS AVAILABLE IN YOUR AREA

What is it?

A five-hour training which is aligned with the FUNdamental and Learn to Train stages of the Canadian Sport for Life model and focuses on social, emotional and cognitive development of athletes. Participants who are NCCP certified may earn 3 Professional Development (PD) points towards maintenance of the NCCP certification status.

Who is it for?

Coaches, instructors or volunteers providing direct leadership to children aged 6 to 12 in a competitive environment.

Why does it matter?

Coaches have a major impact on a child's sport experience. The training is based in research and has been designed to assist coaches in handling top concerns such as dealing with parents, keeping children's interest, ensuring fair play and creating an emotionally safe environment.
